

ATH-M50, time to take care of your ears.

Are your old existing headphones which guarantee you accuracy of sound reproduction and monitoring uncomfortable, or lack of sound isolation?

Perhaps you've tried professional versions of modern high end audiophile headphones and find them comfortable, but that they can't be used as a monitoring tool.

Try out Audio-Technica's ATH-M50 headphones. Designed for the most demanding professional applications, they combine both accurate response with long-wearing listening comfort.

The ATH-M50s feature sophisticated driver technology which delivers superb power handling and very high SPL capabilities while maintaining clarity of sound, allowing you to hear your mix the way it sounds on your studio monitors.

ATH-M50, your ears deserve them.
